

February 26, 2010

Information Letter
Educational Activity Center

Dear EAC Parent,

Thank goodness it's Friday! We made it through another tough week here at JMCA! Congratulations and many thanks go out to all of our 3rd graders who did amazing work this week on their CSAP tests! On Wednesday, we didn't get to dancing or our homemade games due to a vast number of "inappropriate attire", ha-ha many of our students were in "uncomfy" clothing and shoes. Instead, we had fun with the wonderful Winter Olympics. We made snowboards for each other; as well as, "First Place in our Heart" ribbons. For this coming Wednesday, comfy attire willing, we will enjoy our homemade games and dancing lessons!

In a LAST attempt to collect ESSENTIAL INFORMATION for all our daycare friends, we have decided to re-send the info missing for your child. AGAIN, if this REQUIRED information isn't back by MARCH 5th, unfortunately we will be forced to prohibit your child (ren) from attending EAC until the information is returned. Again, we apologize in advance for any inconvenience this may cause!

Your child(ren) is missing:

Dr. Name and # ()

Dentist name and # ()

Additional pick-up person ()

Allergies ()

Medicine info ()

Emergency Care Consent ()

In other news:

JMCA 6th graders will be performing "Beware of the Spaghetti" tonight! The curtain opens at 6:30pm. Tickets are being sold by Ms. Ashley; they are $10 and this includes spaghetti dinner, drink, dessert and of course the show! Show your school spirit and come on out for the event!

March 5th we will be sending out our enrollment forms for Spring Break. Keep your eyes peeled. As well, we will be sending home reservation letters for March 10th (k-2nd) graders who will not have school due to CSAP.

Also! Keep looking for the JMCA Healthy Play Day! This is going to be event that simply cannot be missed! Be there or be square!

Thank you,

JMCA EAC